

JANUARY FEBRUARY 2019

Home Textiles Today

NOBODY KNOWS THE INDUSTRY BETTER

CONSUMER
OUTLOOK
2019:
*Millennials Rule
as Gen Z Rises*

Harjoun Rugs International is putting on the "Ritz" with this collection of hand-knotted New Zealand wool rugs. They come in two designs and 12 patterns highlighted with Lurex fibers.
Atlanta AmericasMart: BL 4-D-7; Las Vegas Market: B-433

Palmetto Living launches as Orion Rugs' specialty brand. Its assortment includes Riverstone, a collection of transitional patterns in neutral palettes on a 100% polypropylene construction.
Atlanta AmericasMart: BL 6-F-1; Las Vegas Market: B-562

Capel Rugs expands its licensed program with designer Kevin O'Brien with Fiore, a Wilton-woven traditional design with a paisley motif. Made of polyester and olefin, it comes in three colorways: Ragstone, Adriatic blue and marcasite (seen here).
Atlanta AmericasMart: BL 3-D-1; Las Vegas World Market Center: A-133

Surya Inc. is showing the Bonfat rug, hand-hooked in vintage global designs with colorful fringes and a chunky looped construction with distinct dying techniques.
Las Vegas Market: BL 7-A-1

The hand-tufted Citrine collection by Joipur Living comprises updated traditional designs, like the Oriental pattern Margate seen here, made of a wool and viscose blend.
Atlanta AmericasMart: BL 12-F-9; Las Vegas Market: B-424